Policy of Catch One

- our only affiliations are our affiliations with people.
- our only superiors are those willing to criticize.

O Canada

Will we too fall into the mode of anarchy?

All radicals forget one fact when they make their bid for power.
People as a group are people and do not change. Laws and ideas must be made to fit people. People cannot be made to fit laws. Therefore, the range of laws and ideas must be wide enough to include everyone within the state. Under no circumstances can people be made to fit the laws and remain as happy creative citizens.

It has been made too painfully clear that the F.L.Q. has no respect for Canada or its citizens.
They have murdered one of their own. Pierre Laporte was a social reformer, a man dedicated to his people. The manifesto of the F.L.Q. speaks of racial reform.
The F.L.Q. liquidated a man who shared their goal, but who did not believe violence was a part of that goal. There can be no negotiating with anyone who believes their way is the only way. There can be no middle course. From now on it is a game of defeat. Either we admit defeat and let Canada be split or we take all-out measures to ensure that the F.L.Q.'s reign of terror comes to an end. Canada has reached, perhaps, its lowest point. The crisis is now! We can unite against anarchy and be a stronger Canada or admit we have been defeated by our own fear and apathy.

Up at five thirty
Off to work
Put in eight hours of dodging work
To make a dollar
Finished at three
Off to the pub
Drink a dozen
Go home
Eat
Read the newspaper
Watch the television
Five days a week.
For a change on off days
When someone else dodges work
Go to the pub for two dozen Watch the television twice as long
Maybe take the kids for a ride Show them the things that were made
In order that someone make a dollar
To buy a beer.
A new idea comes along
Don't listen
Reject it Unless of course it makes a
dollar
To buy a beer
Maybe go to church and pay your respects.
Perform the rituals

Confess
Tomorrow back to do the same People say I'm too critical.

Algoma College Today

Algoma College Student Elections

October 13, 1970 at Algoma College was election day. A day when students democratically elected a president of the students council. Although there was an increase in voting interest over last year all offices except that of president were filled by acclamation. Is this an indication that Algoma College has attained a higher level of school spirit?

Algoma College Hockey Team

The Algoma College Allstars were victorious in their first confrontation of the season defeating the Mod Squad 2 to 1. Is this an indication of the superiority of this team and a foreshadowing of a promising season? Only time can tell.

Is Algoma College to Have a Second Year?

According to informed sources the only thing stopping Algoma from having a second year is Queen's Park. The College has enough first year students, the people of Sault Ste. Marie want a university (according to informed sources), the College has sufficient funds, but Queen's Park says that this is not enough. We (Queen's Park) need statistics that show the college will have sufficient students to warrant another university in the North. In other words Queen's Park does not want another university in the North because they feel Laurentian and Lakehead are sufficient.

My stand is that a university in Sault Ste. Marie is important and Sault Ste. Marie can do nothing but benefit from a university. In questioning various students, mainly mature students, I have found that most would not have attended university had it not been for Algoma College. Most said that it was because they could not afford to move to another centre in order to further their education. Other students said they would rather remain with their family and friends than move to a strange centre. Of course, there are many more personal reasons for attending a university in one's home-town, but those given should be sufficient to support the fact that if a university were in Sault Ste. Marie it would be well attended, as well as giving people who otherwise would not have the opportunity a chance to further their education.

Beneficial? Well, what's more important to a city than qualified personnel for its industry and its very administration? You may say true but these people can be educated elsewhere so that we (Sault Ste. Marie) benefit regardless of where a university is located.

But I offer to you that if a person is born, raised, and educated in one city that person is more familiar with and more faithful to that same city than a person born and raised there but educated elsewhere.

In conclusion I would like to say that Sault Ste. Marie needs a university and the time for this university is now. So people I beseech you to stand behind your College and make Queen's Park see that Sault Ste. Marie needs and can support a university.
