INDIAN AFFAIRS BRANCH

DR. H. W. MCGILL, DIRECTOR

Reports from the Indian agencies and other reliable sources for the fiscal year just closed indicate that in the northern parts of the Dominion natural conditions have been the cause of considerable distress and suffering among the Indians. The fur catch on the whole was poor and the prices of skins low. In that part of the Northwest Territories lying south of the Arctic Circle where the game supply was particularly low, it was decided, as a measure of relief, to allow native-born Indians and half-breeds who were authorized to trap without licences, to take muskrats in this district for a period of 6 weeks in advance of the normal trapping season. It was found that this temporary extension of the open season for muskrats was most beneficial to the resident natives.

In British Columbia returns from trapping were disappointing. Indian fishermen on the sea-coast did not have a good year; prices were fair, but the salmon run was light and the fish were small. Marked progress, however, was made in the Dry Belt agencies in the interior of the province in bringing new lands under irrigation, although the limited amount of water available militates seriously against large areas being irrigated. The cattle industry is a very important one in that part of the province. Prices for good cattle were better during the year under review than for the immediately preceding years, and the Indians took advantage of this favourable opportunity to dispose of surplus stock. They are becoming definitely interested in the production of good beef cattle for market. The policy of the Department of providing well-bred sires is bringing about a gradual improvement in the Indian cattle herds. An experiment in growing tomatoes on the Westbank Indian Reserve in the Okanagan Agency is being carried out under the supervision of the agent. Some 60 acres of unused sagebrush land was allocated to young Indians. These young men cleared, ploughed, and fenced the area, which is now entirely under cultivation. In January a hothouse 94 feet by 24 feet was constructed, with a floor covered solidly with soil, laid over an excavation its full length. Two large stoves were placed in the excavation to heat the beds above. In this hothouse and in six large cold frames, some 105,000 tomato plants were growing and doing well when the reserve was visited in March. Conditions in industry in the province generally were better than in the previous year, with a consequent beneficial influence on the Indian population.

Adverse weather conditions affected the activities of the farming Indians in the Prairie Provinces and, consequently, returns from that region were greatly reduced. The decrease was offset to some extent by the excellent prices that the Indians were able to obtain for beef at the agencies where cattle were raised. The drought conditions also affected the Indians indirectly, as white farmers were unable to employ Indian labour. Special efforts that have been made to increase garden production are beginning to show results, and the Indians are being brought to realize the necessity for producing more vegetables.

Considerable assistance has been given the farming Indians of Ontario and Quebec; new land has been cultivated and good crops are expected. The Indians of the Maritime Provinces who were furnished with garden seed and seed potatoes raised produce that materially assisted them throughout the winter.

The trapping Indians of Ontario and Quebec have fared no better than those farther west. These Indians, up until the last few years, have been able to secure sufficient fur-bearing animals to supply most of their needs; whereas it is now necessary to provide considerable assistance to prevent starvation. This undesirable situation appears to be due primarily to the presence of increased numbers of white trappers.

The depletion that has taken place during the past years in the resources upon which the hunting Indians were always dependent will make necessary a somewhat slow and gradual process of rehabilitation. As a result of the consideration and study that has been given recently to this problem, several projects have been put under way with a view to ameliorating conditions. These consist of the securing and setting aside of areas for the propagation of muskrats and conservation of beaver, and the establishment of hunting preserves in suitable parts of the country for the exclusive use of Indians, and in some instances Indians and half-breeds.

QUEBEC BEAVER SANCTUARY

For the benefit of the hunting Indians of Quebec, negotiations were entered into with the Government of that province for the purpose of setting aside an area between Rupert and Eastmain Rivers on James Bay as a beaver sanctuary. A similar experiment carried out by the Hudson's Bay Company since 1932 has proved very successful, the increase amounting to between 13,000 and 14,000 beaver. The proposed sanctuary will be immediately south of that operated by the Hudson's Bay Company. Close patrol in such a sanctuary would prevent any violation of the law and regulations, and a complete progress report might be kept for the benefit of future projects. Moreover, such a project would inure to the benefit of the province by increasing the value of the fur resources, and, when trapping is permitted, would be most beneficial to the Indian population of the nearby areas.

BEAVER COLONIES

Last year the establishment of beaver colonies was reported on certain reserves in Saskatchewan. Sixteen beaver were transferred to the Mistawasis Reserve, Carlton Agency, and of these fourteen survived the winter of 1936-7. In the autumn of 1937 there were approximately forty beaver. Only one colony remained in the lake in which they were originally placed, the other beaver moving to smaller lakes about half a mile away from the larger lake. The colonies now extend over an area of about 7 miles. The latest report is to the effect that they wintered well and a large increase is expected this year.

In the Pelly Agency, of forty beaver, eight were killed by bears, accident, and cold. The remainder were released in the Provincial Forest Reserve. Some have migrated into Manitoba and are established in lakes nearby. They have increased satisfactorily and it is estimated that they now number over one hundred. This number is approximate, as only the number of colonies can be checked.

Four pairs were placed on the Cote and Keys Reserves. These have remained and increased, but their young moved in the spring and cannot be located.

REMOVAL OF BELLA COOLA INDIANS

The flood that occurred on the coast of British Columbia in November 1936 was the greatest ever recorded on Bella Coola River. The river reached a level of from 2 to 3 feet higher than any previous record, and flood damage was general along the river and throughout the Indian village of Bella Coola. Aside from the fact that sidewalks, woodpiles, outbuildings, fences, and everything movable was carried off, the most disastrous effect of the flood was the shutting off of the Indian village from access to the road system and from their source of domestic water supply.

Two alternatives were available to remedy the situation; the re-establishment of a water supply service, or the removal of the village to a new location. As Nacleetsconnay River had changed its course and was flowing at the back of the Indian dwellings, thus placing them between it and Bella Coola River, it was considered that they would be in great danger in the event of a recurrence of flood conditions. The decision, therefore, was to move the village to a new location on the south side of Bella Coola River, adjacent to the white village. The new site was well above flood level and close to a good water supply.

Following a resolution of the Band, authority was obtained early in 1937 for the expenditure of capital funds at the credit of the Bella Coola Indians. During the summer a survey was made of approximately fifty-six lots, which were to form the new Bella Coola townsite. In October, following the fishing season, the removal of the Indians began. This was done as economically as possible by using the lumber in the old houses for construction of the new; the water-pipes were also recovered and laid again in the new location. The actual moving of the houses was done by the Indians themselves on a co-operative basis, and during this time community meals were prepared for those engaged in the work. At the end of the fiscal year the transfer was still proceeding and practically all the Indians had moved from the old village site. The difficulty of providing accommodation while houses were being torn down was met by a number of Indian women with their children seeking employment in the nearby canneries.

RADIO BROADCASTS BY INDIANS

The advice and co-operation of the Branch was sought by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in connection with the presentation of a coast to coast series of talks by Canadian Indians. These talks, which dealt with the Indians' present life, historical background, and related matters, proved both interesting and informative.

Synopses for the series were prepared and were arranged so as to be representative of racial and geographical distribution. The talks were of 15 minutes' duration, 3 minutes of which was occupied by an introduction by the local Corporation announcer.

The series commenced with a broadcast from Charlottetown in October, and was followed weekly by successive talks from Montreal, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, and Vancouver, ending with an address by the Minister in December.

INDIAN HEALTH SERVICES

During the year under review communicable disease was not widespread among the Indians, but in three areas intense local epidemics caused serious loss of life. In October, November, and December, 1937, measles of a virulent type appeared among the Indians at the east end of Lake Athabaska, and in the western part of Cariboo district in British Columbia. Both these districts are remote, the time of year was the worst possible, and the Indians affected were of the most primitive type.

A little later typhoid fever was reported at a reserve some 50 miles south of the National Transcontinental Railway in northern Quebec. The epidemic had been under way some weeks before firm ice allowed the news to be brought out. A doctor and two nurses were placed in charge. The nurses remained on constant duty for over 2 months. The disease was controlled by preventive inoculation, but many deaths occurred among those already infected.

These accounts show that there are still large areas in Canada where control and treatment of severe epidemic disease is an extremely difficult problem.

On May 1, 1937, a medical superintendent replaced the former part-time physician at the Caughnawaga Indian Reserve, near Montreal, where there are over 2,500 Indians in one group.

A new departmental hospital of 16 to 20 beds was opened at Pine Falls, Manitoba, to relieve the hospital operated by the Manitoba Paper Company, Limited, of sick Indians. The company had been very kind in this matter for some years, but found that it required all the space in its hospital for the care of its employees. The new hospital was built at a very reasonable cost, and has been used to capacity from its opening date.

The hospital of 50 to 60 beds completed and operated at Fort Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan, in 1936, is operating very successfully. During 14 months of operation it provided 24,458 hospital days treatment for 475 resident patients. At the last report date there were 65 patients, of whom 51 were under treatment for tuberculosis. The cost of operation is extremely low. The remaining seven departmental hospitals carried on their work economically throughout the year and without any serious problem or complaint.

It is pleasing to be able to report definite progress in the treatment and control of tuberculosis. On June 23, 1937, a conference was held at Ottawa of leading tuberculosis authorities from almost every province and many of the senior departmental medical officers, to consult on this problem, and to advise on the use of a limited special appropriation provided for that year for combatting tuberculosis among the Indians. Very briefly the measures recommended were the clearing of residential schools of active tuberculosis cases; the examination and survey of the more accessible reserves, and the isolation and treatment of the Indians found to have active tuberculosis.

During the year some 8,000 Indians were examined by the tuberculin skin test, X-ray, physical examination, or combination of these methods. Almost all of this work was carried out by provincial or voluntary tuberculosis clinics, at a small individual fee. The number of Indians receiving institutional treatment for tuberculosis reached 358 at the end of the fiscal year.

Accurate statistics of the prevalence of active tuberculosis among Indians are extremely difficult to obtain. Even the death rate from the disease is not accurately known. Among bands carefully surveyed last year, the proportion of children infected with tuberculosis varied from 13 to 90 per cent. The test used only shows that the person has, at some time in his life, been subject to invasion by the disease. It does not indicate that he has it in any active form. It may, in fact, indicate only that he has received repeated small infections, which tend to protect him against more serious invasion.

It is possible, however, to say with some definiteness that the Indian population is from ten to twenty times as tuberculous as the white, the rate varying widely in different provinces, and in different parts of each province.

In March 1938 a select committee representing those present at the meeting in June 1937, met again at Ottawa to plan for tuberculosis work in the new fiscal year. It is proposed to carry out a considerable extension of this important work when additional funds are provided for that purpose.

There was a considerable extension of remedial dental work in the residential and larger day schools. The field, however, was not completely covered. The method adopted is designed to secure the greatest possible amount of operative dental treatment for the expenditure of available funds. Although almost no provision is made for dental repair work for adult Indians, the Department does provide for extractions for the relief of pain, or to clear up a mouth condition that affects general health. Dental plates are supplied only if, and when, the Indian pays a part of the cost.

Day schools were constructed during the year at the following reserves:

Christian Island, Ontario
 Restigouche, Quebec
 Port Simpson, British Columbia
 Kinistino, Saskatchewan
 Bloodvein, Manitoba

These schools, with the exception of Kinistino, where a school was established for the first time, were built to replace buildings that, in recent years, had become wholly unsuitable for educational purposes.

It is estimated that the increase now taking place in the Indian school population will necessitate the construction of at least ten, one-room day schools annually, or five day schools and one residential school, with accommodation for one hundred and fifty pupils, if the present policy of making provision for pupils in day and residential schools is continued.

Throughout the year steadily increasing emphasis has been placed on the importance to the pupil of manual training and vocational instruction. Residential schools are now equipped to provide worth-while instruction in agriculture, gardening, carpentry work, boat-building, tailoring, dressmaking, cooking, handloom weaving, and physical culture. These studies are combined with the regular courses of study supplied by the Provincial Departments of Education. In the cases of Indian pupils, however, and particularly those pupils who intend to establish themselves on reserves, the tendency at present is to provide a practical course of study with less emphasis on academic subjects.

The one-room, ungraded, rural school is, in most cases, a poorly equipped educational unit for Indians. In the absence of basement accommodation, it is almost impossible to promote a program of vocational instruction. It is the policy of the Department, however, to provide basement accommodation suitable for vocational instruction at all newly constructed day schools. The fact that there are difficulties to be overcome in the case of the older schools does not mean that at these schools vocational instruction is wholly neglected. Teachers, often at their own request, are supplied regularly with dressmaking material, yarn, tools for gardening, garden seeds, and lumber for wood-working projects. The fact that requests for these supplies have been multiplying during the year is an indication of one of the most encouraging tendencies in educational effort among our Indian population.

WELFARE

A special welfare program was organized early in the year. This program was designed to re-establish Indians, and particularly Indians in receipt of relief allowances, on a self-supporting basis.

The sum of $150,000 was set apart from the regular welfare appropriation voted by Parliament for the promotion of projects and the purchase of supplies. An attempt was made by the field officials to give particular attention to reserves where unemployment was most in evidence and where relief expenditures appeared to be increasing. The most urgent needs of the Indian population on each reserve determined almost wholly the scope and details of the program. Under the direction and supervision of Indian Inspectors and Agents, live stock, farm machinery, and tractors were purchased and supplied to Indians. A number of the unemployed were engaged in cutting pulpwood, clearing land, boat-building, and in the construction of root houses.

Twelve tractors were purchased during the year. These tractors remain the property of the Department, but are placed at the disposal of Indians and are operated under the personal supervision of our farming instructors.

It is gratifying to state that despite the crop failure in Saskatchewan and Alberta, the results of the special program have been encouraging. It must be borne in mind, however, that the rehabilitation of the Indian population calls for the exercise of patience and perseverance and is a process that cannot be unduly hurried. It is significant that the majority of young Indians are at this time anxious to establish themselves on reserves. It is the policy of the Department to encourage this tendency and to make life on the reserves as attractive and as satisfying as it is possible to make it.

INDIAN HANDICRAFT

The revival and advancement of Indian handicraft has been given particular attention during the past year. The services of one of the officials of the Branch have been devoted entirely to the organization of this work among the Indians in Eastern Canada. Although it is too soon to gauge the ultimate result, a good beginning has been made in stimulating the Indians to a greater output of articles of good quality, and to finding outlets for the disposal of their wares.

The number of permanent workers, though small at first, has gradually increased, and a keener interest has become apparent. The Indians are assisted by the Branch in obtaining materials for the basketry work. Ash logs are cut and hauled by the Indians, pounded, made into bundles of splints, and dyed. Looms and other materials necessary have been provided in an effort to revive weaving among the Indian girls, and they have shown great aptitude for the work. Belts, ties, tweeds, blankets, linen towels, and bags are made, for which ancient Iroquoian, Montagnais, and Abenakis patterns have been revived and used.

CONSTRUCTION, SURVEYS, AND ENGINEERING WORKS

Agency Buildings

Repairs and improvements as required were carried out to agency buildings at the following Agencies: Six Nations, Saugeen, Caradoc, and Kenora, Ontario; Timiskaming, Pointe Bleue, Seven Islands, and Caughnawaga, Quebec; Portage la Prairie, Birtle, Fisher River, The Pas, Griswold, Pelly, Clandeboye, and Norway House, Manitoba; Touchwood, Carlton, Duck Lake, Battleford, File Hills, Crooked Lake, Onion Lake, and Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan; Stony, Peigan, Blackfoot, Edmonton, Saddle Lake, Sarcee, Blood, Athabaska, and Lesser Slave Lake, Alberta; Bella Coola, Williams Lake, Kootenay, Kwawkwalth, and Kamloops, British Columbia.

Repairs were also made to the old, historical building, known as Fort St. Louis, at Caughnawaga. The old File Hills Hospital was demolished and the materials used to build a granary at the File Hills Agency.

A number of buildings, transferred to this Department by the Department of National Defence, were moved and rebuilt at Norway House, Manitoba.

The new residences for the Indian Agents at Norway House, Manitoba, and Caughnawaga, Quebec, were completed.

Road Work

Approaches to the new bridge at Maniwaki, constructed in the previous year, were built, also a new road leading to the new bridge.

Repairs were made to roads on the following reserves: Sarnia, Kettle Point, Stoney Point, Caradoc, Tyendingaga, Golden Lake, Walpole Island, Pic, Parmachene, Oneida, and McIntyre Bay, Ontario; St. Regis, Bersimis, Caughnawaga, Oka, Lorette, Pointe Bleue, Abenakis, and Restigouche, Quebec; Fisher River and Norway House, Manitoba; Bear River, Shubenacadie, and Chapel Island, Nova Scotia; Big River, Saskatchewan; Lennox Island, Prince Edward Island; Big Cove and Tobique, New Brunswick; and Babine and Vancouver Agencies, British Columbia.

Bridges

Repairs were made to the bridge over Styne Creek in the Lytton Agency, and to bridges on the Necauslie and Stony Creek Reserves in the Stuart Lake Agency, British Columbia, on the Caughnawaga Reserve, Quebec, and Walpole Island, Ontario.

A new bridge was built over Cedar Creek on the Maniwaki Reserve, Quebec.

Drainage Work

Drainage work was carried out at Caughnawaga and Sarnia.

Other Works

Extensive repairs to the breakwater at Middle River Reserve, Nova Scotia, were made, and a telephone line was constructed from Orient Bay to McIntyre Bay, Ontario. The reconstruction of floats for the Homalco and Klahoose bands in British Columbia was commenced, and an extension to the wharf at the Kincolith Reserve, B.C., was provided.

Water Supply Systems

Wells were provided or deepened at the Touchwood Agency, Battleford, Saskatchewan, and Hobbema Agency, Alberta. Repairs to domestic water supply systems were made at Ahousaht, Nesquiaht, and Nootka Reserves, British Columbia.

Boats

Repairs were made to the agency boat the "Naskeena" and a new Diesel engine installed. Minor repairs were made to other department owned boats.

Miscellaneous

In addition to the foregoing, funds were advanced or transferred to the Surveys and Engineering Branch for the construction of irrigation systems in British Columbia or for the improvement of existing ones.

Funds were advanced to that Branch for the drilling of wells at the File Hills Agency, the replacement of the water pipe-line at Port Simpson, British Columbia, completion of water supply system at the Lower Similkameen Reserve, British Columbia, completion of renewal of water supply system for Skidegate Indian Village, British Columbia, and water supply system for Kitimat Village, British Columbia. Advances were also made for a well at Stony Agency, Morley, Alberta, and for irrigation work at the Little Shuswap Reserve, British Columbia. The drilling of a well at Beady's Reserve was also looked after by the Surveys and Engineering Branch.

RESERVES AND TRUSTS SERVICE

RESERVES DIVISION

The volume of sales and leases of surrendered Indian lands during the past year differed very little from the fiscal year 1936-7. The agricultural depression, mainly in Western Canada, has not passed, or at least the effects remain. This, in addition to crop failures in western sections due to various causes, made collections on open accounts difficult and in large areas impossible. New sales and leases of available lands naturally have been adversely affected.

LAND SALES AND LEASES

During the fiscal year just closed Indian lands valued at $44,611.36 were sold and the sum of $77,743.52 collected on current sales contracts. Rentals from leases amounted to $137,546.64.

ADJUSTMENTS UNDER F.C.A. ACT

In the 12-month period eighteen applications for adjustments of sales contracts were dealt with by Boards of Review under the terms and provisions of the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act. Reductions of arrears of principal or interest amounted to $27,557.39.

TIMBER

The quantity of timber cut for sale from Indian reserves throughout the Dominion was 20 per cent more during the 1937-8 season than in the previous year. The increase would have been much greater if the active export market in British Columbia had been maintained, but owing to unsettled conditions in the Orient the demand for lumber was appreciably curtailed. Greater activity was, however, noted in Eastern Canada.

The kinds and quantities of timber cut for sale from Indian reserves during the season of 1937-8, on which royalty and dues were collected, were as follows:

Pine (white).....	431,392 f.b.m.
Pine (yellow).....	13,223 "
Pine (red).....	555,970 "
Pine (jack).....	1,678,378 "
Spruce	5,297,040 "
Hemlock	3,775,905 "
Cedar	1,824,309 "
Fir (Douglas).....	7,783,128 "
Fir (balsam).....	991,156 "
Tamarack	275 "
Maple	808,580 "
Birch	267,909 "
Elm	17,585 "
Oak	2,000 "
Walnut	1,000 "
Basswood	430,242 "
Poplar	13,468 "
Cottonwood	622,553 "
Christmas trees.....	14,988 bales
Cordwood (mixed).....	7,333 cords
Pulpwood (spruce and balsam).....	38,224 "
Shingle bolts.....	135 "
Ties	20,485
Poles	1,099
Posts	9,096
Piling	16,522 l.f.

The above quantities expressed in terms of board measure feet represent a cut of approximately 42,000,000 feet, and the Indians cut approximately 5,000,000 feet board measure free of dues, for sale, and an additional quantity of approximately 9,000,000 feet board measure was cut by them for building, fencing, and fuel purposes.

Revenue During Year

Revenue receipts during the year were as follows:

Licence royalties and dues.....	$42,295 00
Permit dues.....	23,573 70
Rentals from timber berths.....	2,149 50
Licence fees.....	435 00
Interest payments.....	92 99
Trespass dues.....	1,333 97
Fines.....	95 35
Flooding compensation.....	2,300 00
Fire-fighting costs, refunded.....	2,041 31
Total.....	$74,316 82

Sales of timber during the year were as follows:

Compton Island Reserve, B.C.....	$ 160
Chemainus Reserve No. 13, B.C.....	1,000
Quinsam Reserve No. 12, B.C.....	100
Ilclo Reserve No. 12, B.C.....	200

There were twenty-three timber licences current on April 1, 1938, being three more than the previous year, six new ones having been issued and three having terminated.

MINING ON RESERVES

The revenue derived from mining activities on Indian reserves, including the sale of sand and gravel for road construction, was somewhat less than the previous year, and is summarized as follows:

Royalty on mining and gravel permits.....	$3,277 83
Rentals from mining permits.....	1,778 50
Prospectors' fees.....	410 00
Compensation for Indians.....	25 00
Total.....	$5,491 33

FOREST PROTECTION

The number of forest fires reported on Indian reserves during 1937 was 52, being one more than the previous year, dry seasonal conditions in the Provinces of Ontario, Saskatchewan, and British Columbia being the main cause of the number being above normal.

A summary of the salient features with respect to these forest fires is shown hereunder:

No actual fire-fighting organization is maintained by the Indian Affairs Branch, other than as represented by a few Indian fire rangers, but arrangements have been made with the various provincial governments whereby forest fires on Indian reserves are extinguished by the provincial forest service with the assistance of the Indians.

PETROLEUM AND NATURAL GAS

Throughout the year considerable interest continued to be focused on several Indian reserves in the western provinces, chiefly the Blood, Sarcee, and Stony Reserves, in Alberta, as potential oil-fields. No actual development has yet taken place, but large sums of money have been expended by interested parties in investigational and exploratory work. Test drilling appears to indicate that if oil exists it is at a considerable depth, and this presumption has necessarily delayed deep drilling. All possible geological and other information is being obtained before beginning operations. It is anticipated that one or more deep wells will be drilled during the fiscal year 1938-9, and the outcome is of more than ordinary interest to the Indians and the Department.

LOCATION TICKETS

During the fiscal year 1937-8 two hundred and thirty-two location tickets, granting title under the provisions of the Indian Act to individual owners, covering lands on reserves, were issued, and on March 31, 1938, there were 3,339 such location tickets current.

INDIAN ENFRANCHISEMENTS

Under the provisions of Section 114 of the Indian Act there were carried out during the past fiscal year 76 enfranchisements, comprising a total number of men, women, and children of 199.

TRUSTS DIVISION

INDIAN TRUST FUNDS

A considerable number of Indian bands in Canada possess trust funds derived from the sale of land and timber, from rents, and from capitalized annuities. The Dominion Government allows interest on these funds and the proceeds are used for the benefit of the Indians.

The total amount of Indian trust funds at the close of the fiscal year was $14,081,905.63. During the year there was credited to the various funds $1,210,816.47. This was derived from collections and Government interest. The expenditure amounted to $1,126,554.97.

ANNUITIES

The usual arrangements for the payment of Indian annuities were made. Funds for this purpose were sent to forty-three Indian Agents throughout Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and the Northwest Territories. The payment of annuities due under Treaty 9 in the District of Patricia, Ontario, was again undertaken by an officer from headquarters, who made the trip by aeroplane, commencing at Sioux Lookout, following the general course of Severn River to its mouth on Hudson Bay, thence easterly along the shores of Hudson Bay to the mouth of Winisk River, thence following the general course of Winisk River and Albany River to Sioux Lookout.

Treaty was paid on this trip to bands located at ten different points. The total expended on Indian annuities during the year was $252,644, which includes payments of commutation and enfranchisement grants in addition to the regular annuities paid by Indian Agents in the field and by the Department direct.

INDIAN SOLDIER SETTLEMENT ACT

The administration of this Act as it applies to Indian returned soldiers is carried out by the Indian Affairs Branch. Loans have been made to 265 Indian settlers throughout Canada, entailing an expenditure of over $500,000. The granting of these loans has enabled a large number of Indians to become established on the land, where they and their children will become an asset to the country. The total amount of loans outstanding is $237,362; collections during the year amounted to $10,261.

SUMMARY OF INDIAN AFFAIRS BY PROVINCES AND TERRITORIES

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Agency.—There is only one agency in the province. A large number of Indians live on Lennox Island, and other parts of the Province where the Indians can be found are at Rocky Point, near Charlottetown, Morell, St. Andrews, and Scotch Fort.

Tribal Origin.—The Indians in this Province belong to the Micmac tribe, which is of Algonkin stock.

Occupations.—On Lennox Island several of the Indians engage in farming on a small scale. Most of them own a few head of cattle and horses, but their main occupations are basket-making, fishing, and working around the different towns and villages, wherever they can find employment.

Dwellings.—A considerable amount of money has been spent in repairs to Indian houses, and on the whole these Indians have fairly good homes.

NOVA SCOTIA

Agencies.—There are nineteen Indian agencies in the Province of Nova Scotia, namely: Yarmouth, Digby, Shelburne, Lunenburg, Annapolis, Kings, Queens, Windsor, Shubenacadie, Halifax, Cumberland, Colchester, Pictou, Antigonish-Guysborough, Richmond, Inverness, Victoria, Sydney, and Eskasoni.

Tribal Origin.—The Indians of Nova Scotia are of Algonkin stock, and bear the distinctive name of Micmac.

Occupations.—Very few of the Indians in this province engage in farming to any extent, but a decided effort is being made by the Indian Affairs Branch to encourage the Indians in all agencies in Nova Scotia to put in better gardens. Liberal amounts of seed, potatoes, and fertilizer have been supplied. Opportunities for employment have increased and here and there throughout the province the Indians are finding work in the lumber camps, sawmills, or as stevedores. A number of them also find work with the farmers, especially in the Annapolis Valley orchards. With increased tourist trade during the summer, the Indians are engaged as canoemen and as guides. In all agencies they manufacture baskets of all descriptions, wooden handles, hockey sticks, butter tubs, churns, barrels, etc. However, they have had great difficulty in the past in disposing of their products, but with improved economic conditions in the last year there has been an increased demand for Indian handicraft.

Dwellings.—The homes of the Indians in most of the reserves in Nova Scotia consist of one and one-half story frame buildings fairly well finished on the outside but not on the inside. Many shacks are to be seen at practically every agency. As few of the Indians own any live-stock, barns are to be found only here and there, and these are also of frame construction.

NEW BRUNSWICK

Agencies.—There are three agencies in the Province of New Brunswick: the Northeastern, located at Richibucto; the Northern, located at Perth; and the Southwestern, located at Fredericton.

Tribal Origin.—Most of the Indians of New Brunswick belong to the Micmac race, which is of Algonkin stock. In addition to these there are some bands of Malecites, also of Algonkin stock.

Occupations.—The Indians of New Brunswick are among the least progressive in the Dominion. Their farming operations are restricted mostly to the growing of potatoes for their own use. Formerly they derived a substantial income from hunting and trapping, but in later years this has dwindled to an almost negligible amount owing to the scarcity of fur-bearing animals. A considerable number find employment in the lumber camps and others as day labourers. In the southern part of the Province the Indians are engaged commercially in the manufacture and sale of Indian wares.

Dwellings.—There has been a marked improvement in recent years in the housing conditions among the Indians of New Brunswick. Many of their houses are solidly constructed of squared timbers, covered with shingles and often whitewashed.

QUEBEC

Agencies.—The Indian agency offices in Quebec are located as follows: Bersimis, Cacouna (Viger), Caughnawaga, Gaspé, Gentilly (Bécancour), Havre St. Pierre (Mingan), Harrington Harbour (St. Augustine), Maniwaki, Maria, Notre Dame du Nord (Timiskaming), Oka, Pierreville, Pointe Bleue, Restigouche, St. Regis, Seven Islands, Village des Hurons (Lorette).

Tribal Origin.—The principal tribes found in Quebec are: Iroquois at Caughnawaga, Lake of Two Mountains, and St. Regis; the Hurons of Lorette are also of Iroquoian stock; the Montagnais, who are of Algonkin stock, at Bersimis, Mingan, Lake St. John, Seven Islands; the Abenakis, also of Algonkin stock, at Bécancour and St. Francis; the Micmacs, also of Algonkin stock, at Maria and Restigouche; and the Malecites, also of Algonkin stock, at Viger.

Occupations.—In the agricultural districts of the Province the Indians engage in mixed farming. Assistance has been given to these Indians in the way of horses and cattle on the repayment plan, and they have cultivated considerable additional land. In Gaspé Peninsula they find employment in the lumber camps and mills, but on the north shore of the gulf, fishing, hunting, and trapping are still the principal sources of income. In the northern part of the province lumbering is the chief pursuit. One of the principal industries of the Indians of Quebec is making baskets, and many of them spend the summer months at the resorts in order to dispose of the baskets, lacrosse sticks, racquets, moccasins, and other articles to the tourists. Some of them, particularly in the Saguenay district, act as guides and canoeemen. The Indians of the large Caughnawaga reserve situated near Montreal are expert steel workers and find highly profitable employment when building operations are active.

Dwellings.—In the older settled districts of the Province many of the Indians own stone, brick, or frame houses of good construction, comfortable and sanitary. In the more remote districts, where hunting and trapping are still the principal occupations, the Indians necessarily live in tents during a great part of the year.

ONTARIO

Agencies.—The Indian agency offices in Ontario are located as follows: Brantford (Six Nations), Chappleau, Chippawa Hill (Saugeen), Christian Island, Deseronto (Tyendinaga), Fort Frances, Gore Bay, Highgate (Moravian), Kenora, Longford Mills (Rama), Manitowaning, Moose Factory (James Bay), Muncey (Caradoc), Parry Sound, Peterborough (Rice and Mud Lakes), Port Arthur, Port Perry (Scugog), Golden Lake, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, Sutton West (Georgina and Snake Island), Sturgeon Falls, Thessalon, Walpole Island, Warton (Cape Croker).

Tribal Origin.—Most of the Indians of Ontario are Ojibwas, and are of Algonkin stock. The Oneidas of the Thames, the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte, the Mohawks of Parry Sound district, and the Six Nations of Grand River, are of Iroquoian stock. There is a band of Pottawattamies at Walpole Island, and Delawares at the Caradoc (Muncey) Agency; these are of Algonkin stock.

Occupations.—The Indians in the southern, western, and central parts of Ontario engage largely in farming. The reserves are generally well suited for this purpose. During the years of depression, owing to the lack of funds, very little new equipment was purchased. Considerable assistance has been given the farming Indians, both from appropriation and from band funds, and tractors have been supplied. On the Tyendinaga Reserve, near Deseronto, the individual Indians own nine tractors and their farms are the equal of those of the white settlers in the district. Some of the Indians also do well with dairy products.

A special representative of the Indian Affairs Branch supervises the farming operations of the Indians in central and western Ontario. He organizes Indian agricultural societies wherever farming is carried on, and holds a short course in agriculture. Courses are also held in domestic science and dietetics for girls and young women. These courses are well attended and have proved very popular among the Indians. Great interest is shown by the young people, as well as by the old people. At the annual meeting of the different agricultural societies, as well as during the time the courses are held, there are lectures by outside speakers, who have voluntarily given their services, especially from the Agricultural College at Guelph and from the Provincial Department at Toronto. This work has stimulated the interest of the Indians a great deal.

During the summer months Indians find a profitable source of income as guides and canoemen. Others are employed at various industries and trades. The Indians are proficient bushmen and many find employment in the various lumber camps. There is still a market for snow-shoes, canoes, and moccasins, and these are usually manufactured by the older members of the community, although in some areas successful efforts have been made to engage the younger generation in these distinctive Indian pursuits.

The women also find sources of income; some are employed as domestics; others support themselves by making baskets and fancy work. In certain districts berry-picking is an important item and furnishes considerable income.

Dwellings.—In the more settled districts many of the Indians own houses of brick, stone, or modern frame construction, and on some reserves both houses and farm buildings are comfortable and well built. In the outlying and more remote parts the old type of log house still predominates and tents and tipis are used during the summer months.

Northern Ontario.—In the remote parts of Ontario hunting and fishing are still the chief sources of livelihood. Acting as guides and canoemen during the summer months adds considerably to the income of the Indians. Although agriculture is not carried on to any extent, most of the bands grow considerable crops of potatoes and vegetables. These Indians are, of necessity, more or less nomadic and, consequently, live in tents most of the year.

MANITOBA

Agencies.—The Indian agency offices in Manitoba are located as follows: Birtle, Griswold, Hodgson (Fisher River), Norway House, Portage la Prairie, Selkirk (Clandeboye), The Pas.

Tribal Origin.—Most of the Indians of Manitoba belong to the Ojibwa race, which is of Algonkin stock. Bands of Swampy Crees are found at the Norway House and Fisher River Agencies and in the York Factory district; these are also of Algonkin stock. The Indians located at the Griswold Agency are Sioux; there are also Sioux at the Birtle and Portage la Prairie Agencies. There is a band of Chipewyans at Churchill; this tribe is of Athapaskan stock.

Occupations.—The reserves in Manitoba suitable for extensive agriculture are mainly within the Birtle, Griswold, Portage la Prairie, and Clandeboye Agencies.

In the northern agencies the chief occupations of the Indians are hunting, trapping, and fishing. Many of the northern Indians are expert guides and canoemen. They are employed by sportsmen and to some extent by the transport and fur companies, but their main source of revenue is from trapping and fishing.

A great many of the Indians from around Lake Manitoba and Lake Winnipeg come south in the summer and work in the harvest fields in the farming communities in this province. The women also derive considerable revenue from the sale of moccasins and gloves, which are made from tanned moose and deer hides. The women do the tanning, and most of them are expert needlewomen.

The Indians in the southern part of the Province, wherever the land is suitable, carry on farming and stock raising. Considerable money has been spent in supplying them with equipment. Land has been broken for the Indians living in the lake reserves, with a view to having them supply themselves with flour. On the reserves around Lake Manitoba the Indians own a great many cattle, and they have recently been supplied with good breeding stock. Increased interest has been shown in gardens.

Dwellings.—On most reserves in Manitoba fairly good log homes are to be found. They are one and one-half stories high with shingle roofs. Most of these homes are whitewashed every year, which improves the sanitation. There are also quite a number of houses of frame construction to be found on all the reserves. In the extreme north, of course, the homes are more primitive.

SASKATCHEWAN

Agencies.—The Indian agency offices in Saskatchewan are located as follows: Balcarres (File Hills), Battleford, Broadview (Crooked Lakes), Duck Lake, Kamsack (Pelly), Leask (Carlton), Muscow (Qu'Appelle), Onion Lake, Punnichy (Touchwood).

Tribal Origin.—The most numerous tribes among the Saskatchewan Indians are the Ojibwas, Swampy Crees, and Plains Crees, which all belong to the Algonkin stock. In addition to these, Sioux Indians are found at the Crooked Lakes, Qu'Appelle, and Carlton Agencies, and on the Moose Woods Reserve. In the Onion Lake Agency there is a band of Chipewyans, who are of Athapaskan stock. There are also a few Chipewyan Indians in the Ile à la Crosse district.

Occupations.—The principal occupations of the Indians of Saskatchewan are farming and stock raising, and farming instructors are employed on most of the reserves in this Province to instruct the Indians in agricultural pursuits. A great effort has been made to increase the acreage under cultivation. A large amount of land has been broken and old land summer-fallowed. The Indians also own a number of cattle of a very good type, principally of Shorthorn breed. They are well equipped with implements and own a number of horses.

Other Occupations.—Wherever there are fur-bearing animals to be found the old Indian still carries on his former pursuit, and the Indians in the extreme north still make their living from hunting and fishing.

Dwellings.—On most of the reserves in this province the Indians are fairly well housed, the homes being usually of log construction with shingle roof. These houses are very comfortable if properly cared for. Here and there there are also to be found a few homes of frame construction and also the old Indian hut, but there are not very many of this type as the Branch has endeavoured to replace them with better homes in the last few years. The Indians in the extreme north move about and their homes when they are out on the hunting grounds consist in winter of an old log cabin with a sod roof, and a tent in the summer.

ALBERTA

Agencies.—The Indian agency offices in Alberta are located as follows: Brocket (Peigan), Calgary (Sarcee), Cardston (Blood), Driftpile (Lesser Slave Lake), Fort Chipewyan (Athabaska), Gleichen (Blackfoot), Hobbema, Morley (Stony), Saddle Lake, Winterburn (Edmonton).

Tribal Origin.—The Alberta Indians are of Algonkin stock, with the exception of the Sarcees near Calgary and the Beavers and Slaves in the Lesser Slave Lake Agency, who are Athapaskan, the Paul's band in the Edmonton Agency, who are Iroquoian, and the Stonies, who are of Siouan stock. The Algonkin Indians of Alberta are subdivided into Blackfoot Nation, comprising the Indians of the Blackfoot, Blood, and Peigan Agencies; Plains Crees found in the Lesser Slave Lake, Saddle Lake, Edmonton, and Hobbema Agencies.

Occupations.—The principal occupations of the Indians in Alberta are farming and stock raising. The farming Indians in this Province are very well equipped with machinery and horses to carry on their work, as the Indians in the south own large herds of horses. There has been a great improvement in their method of farming in the last 10 years. In good years the Indians derive a considerable revenue from the sale of hay.

The Indian cattle herds in this Province are of a very good type and many bring a premium on the market. The breeds are principally Shorthorn and Hereford with a few Aberdeen Angus. They get good returns for the sale of beef cattle.

In the northern portions of the Athabaska and Lesser Slave Lake Agencies the Indians are still hunters and make their living from that source. The Indians in other parts of the Province derive considerable revenue also from fishing, working for white farmers and stockmen, and from the sale of wood. The Blackfoot Indians, during the winter, derive a large revenue from their coal mines, which they operate themselves under the supervision of a white miner.

Dwellings.—Practically all the Indians in this Province own good homes. On the Blackfoot Reserve every family has a fair house of good construction and good barns. Frame houses and barns are also to be found on the Sarcee Reserve south of Calgary and on the Edmonton Reserve. On the other reserves the homes are mostly of log construction with shingle roofs, but there are also quite a number of frame houses belonging to more prosperous Indians. On the whole, the homes are good and fairly well kept, many of them being well furnished.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Agencies.—The Indian agency offices in British Columbia are located as follows: Alert Bay (Kwawkewlth), Bella Coola, Cranbrook (Kootenay), Duncan (Cowichan), Fort St. John, Hazelton (Babine), Kamloops, Lytton, Massett, Graham Island (Queen Charlotte), Merritt (Nicola), New Westminster, Port Alberni (West Coast), Prince Rupert (Skeena), Telegraph Creek (Stikine), Vancouver, Vanderhoof (Stuart Lake), Vernon (Okanagan), Williams Lake.

Tribal Origin.—The Indians of the Bella Coola, Cowichan, Kamloops, Lytton, New Westminster, Nicola, Vancouver, and Okanagan Agencies belong to the Salish tribes. The Kootenay tribe is located in the agency of the same name. The Kwakiutl-Nootka tribe is located at the Kwawkewlth and West Coast Agencies; the Haidas, in the Queen Charlotte Islands; the Tlingits, in the Stikine; and the Tsimshians in the Skeena Agency. The Indians of the Babine, Stuart Lake, and Williams Lake Agencies belong to the Athapaskan race.

The Indians of the Peace River Block are Athapaskan, with the exception of a small group of Saulteaux and Crees at Moberly Lake who are Algonkin.

Occupations.—Most of the Indians of Vancouver Island and the mainland coast derive their living by fishing. Many of them own power-boats and up-to-date fishing equipment and either fish independently or by contract with the canneries. The main source of their annual revenue is from the summer salmon fishing. The cattle industry is a very important one in the interior agencies of the Province. Gradual improvement in the Indian cattle herds continues.

Dwellings.—The best Indian houses in British Columbia are found on the northwest coast among the Haidas of Queen Charlotte Islands, the Tsimshians of Port Simpson, Metlakatla, and Port Essington, and the Kwakiutls of Bella Bella. These Indians appear to have a natural bent for carpentry and housing architecture. Without departmental assistance, they build from their own plans commodious bungalows of the most modern type, well finished inside and out, that would be a credit to a prosperous suburb of any large city. The Indians of the west coast of Vancouver Island also have roomy, well-ventilated, and well-kept houses, although of a less pretentious character than in the first-mentioned locality.

These Indians were accustomed to dwell in large community houses and this may account for the unusual size and height of the rooms in their modern homes. The women of these more northerly coast villages are experienced housekeepers and maintain a high standard of neatness and cleanliness.

Strangely the Salish Indians of the southern British Columbia Coast in the vicinities of the larger cities of Vancouver and Victoria, and who have been in closer touch with civilization, are backward and unprogressive in their housing conditions in comparison with the north coast Indians above mentioned. Indeed the houses of the Indians of the south coast are for the most part little better than shacks and show little evidence of care or good housekeeping. Housing conditions on the whole are improving. There is much evidence of rapid progress in some sections over conditions of a few years ago, but there is still much room for improvement.

NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

Agencies.—The Indian Affairs Branch now has three agencies in the Northwest Territories, namely: Fort Simpson, Fort Resolution, and Fort Good Hope.

Tribal Origin.—The principal tribes found in the far north are the Slave, Hares, Loucheux, Sekani, Dogribs, Yellow Knives, Chipewyans, and Caribou Eaters. All these tribes are of Athapaskan stock. The most northerly tribes are the Takudah, who extend to the Mackenzie Delta; and the Copper Mines, who are located along Coppermine River. The territory occupied by these two last-named tribes is contiguous to that inhabited by the Eskimos.

Occupations.—The Indians depend almost entirely upon hunting and trapping for a livelihood. Here and there some cultivate small plots of potatoes. They own no cattle or horses, their mode of transportation being by boat, usually, along the great waterways in the summer, and with dogs in the winter. They catch and preserve large quantities of fish for their own use and for food for the dogs during the winter. They also pick and dry large quantities of different kinds of berries for winter use.

Dwellings.—The Indians live in log cabins in winter, using tents and tipis during the summer.

YUKON

Tribal Origin.—The Forty-Mile, Blackstone, and Moosehide bands belong to the Takudah tribe. There is a band of Slaves at Lancing Creek who migrated from Good Hope on Mackenzie River; another band of Slaves, called Nahani, is located at the headwaters of Pelly River. All these Indians are of Athapaskan stock. At Mayo, Selkirk, Little Salmon, and Carmacks there are bands belonging to the tribe known as Stick Indians. Bands belonging to the Tlingit tribe are found at Whitehorse, Teslin Lake, Champagne Landing, and Carcross.

Occupations.—Hunting, trapping, and fishing are the chief occupations of the Yukon Indians. The women also derive some revenue from the sale of moccasins and curios of various kinds, and the men are expert at making toboggans and snow-shoes. Practically no farming is carried on owing to climatic conditions, but some of the Indians cultivate patches of potatoes and other vegetables for their own use.

Dwellings.—The Indians of the Yukon live in log cabins.
