Principal's Message

Dear students:

I'm writing to you about something that's been on my mind for some time. You know that life now is quite different than it was for your grandparents. One difference is that you have more choices and decisions than in the past.

I'm speaking particularly about increased contact with the outside world. Increased contact through travel, education and books, radio, films and television.

You and your parents can now choose where you go and who your friends will be. You have hundreds of books and magazines from which to choose. Radio brings to you entertainment as well as world and local news. Movies and T.V. bring to you very forcefully another way of life.

You have the choice of friends, occupation, books, food, clothes and music in a way not available to Indian people 50 years ago.

And now my concern: that you choose only the best from all that is available. Choose what will make you a strong person and a strong people. Examine carefully, perhaps with some distrust, what you see and hear. Accept the good but reject the garbage. How well you choose in those next few years will largely determine your future strength and happiness.

God bless you.

Kenneth Miller, Principal

Dedication

Miss Huber, we staff and students want to express our deep appreciation for the interest you have shown, and for the effort you have invested in our lives throughout this year and in past years.

As dorm matron you do many things to make our lives more pleasant - tasks, many of which, go unnoticed because you do them so faithfully.

As our supervisor we girls know that you really care about us and our futures. We wish to thank you for the many small things you do for us that help make life here special. For the stories you read to us at bedtime and for the times when we gather around you just to 'visit'.

You are the one we go to when one of us gets hurt or is sick. We like your gentle touch as you bandage our wounds and give us medicine to ease the pain.

But above what you do, Emma, we appreciate and admire you for the woman you are: for the strength of character and purpose you bring to us, for the enthusiasm, spontaneity and natural zest for life which are a part of you, and for your unusual sensitivity to our feelings and needs. We recognize the above traits as springing from your relationship with God, and from your desire to be all that we were meant to be.

As our way of showing appreciation and of saying "Thank You," we dedicate this 1981 New Horizons to you, Miss Emma Huber.
