Parry Sound

Mrs. Peto passes away

Well-known as an organ-ist and choir leader at Trinity Anglican Church in Parry Sound for 20 years, Florence Minto Peto, wife of the Ven. C. H. G. Peto, died at the Parry Sound District General Hospital on October 2, 1974.

Funeral services were held at Trinity Church on October 5, and the interment was in Hillcrest Cemetery, Parry Sound.

Mrs. Peto spent many years of her life serving her church and the community and bringing joy to others through music. She was one of a very talented Toronto family beginning her musical training at the Toronto Conservatory of Music at fourteen. She studied piano, organ, and singing under outstanding instructors for many years.

Mrs. Peto moved to Parry Sound in 1941 when her husband was appointed to Trinity Church. Their resi-dency was interrupted by the Second World War when Archdeacon Peto served as a chaplain overseas from 1943 to 1946.

On June 15-16, 1974, a Trinity Choir Reunion was held to honour the Petos and to celebrate their 49th Wedding Anniversary. (See the September issue of the ALGOMA ANGLICAN.)

Many tributes to Mrs. Peto have arrived on the desk of the ALGOMA ANGLI-

Mrs. Florence Peto

CAN, but perhaps one of the best was this, written by the ALGOMA ANGLICAN'S correspondent in Parry Sound:

"What can you say about one who gave unstintingly all her days and who touched the lives of so many people that our combined debt to her is so great it could never be measured in words."

Algoma Anglicans throughout the Diocese will be interested in knowing that a Memorial Fund, "The Florence Peto Memorial Fund", has been set up to purchase a new organ for Trinity Church.

The Diocese of Algoma and the ALGOMA ANGLICAN wish to extend their sympathy to Archdeacon Peto.

Sault lady enters Church Army

On Sunday, September 15, the parishioners of Holy Trinity Church in Sault Ste. Marie extended farewell greetings to Rosemary Dawson, who left that parish and Sault Ste. Marie to begin training at the Church Army Training College in Toronto.

Fran Glover, ACW President in that parish, presented her with a cheque on behalf of that group; earlier in the week, the Young People's Prayer Group had a farewell party for Rosemary at which she received a numper of gifts.

Rosemary is a former Sunday School Superintendent at Holy Trinity, and has worked in Western Canada with the Sunday School Caravans. Most recently she has been in charge of a group called "Young Communicants" (a post-confirmation class).

The Church Army in which Rosemary has enrolled is a lay society within the Angli-can Church, preparing men and women for the ministry of Evangelism and Social Service, Church Army officers are engaged in Adults' and Children's Missions, Correctional Services, Hostels, Missions, Church Extension, Recreation Centres, Youth Clubs and Camps, Residential Schools, as well as missionary service at home and overseas.

Rosemary Dawson is the first recruit from Holy Trinity in the Sault to enlist in the Church Army, and that parish, as well as the Diocese of Algoma, wish her every blessing in her new career.

Those people who might like to correspond with Rosemary may do so at the fol-lowing address: 397 Bruns-Half-way Houses, Rural wick Avenue, Toronto, Ont.

North Bay church holds "paint-in"

About forty men, women and teenagers arrived Friday evening, September 20, 1974, armed with pails, cloths, brushes and ladders, and started to work on the "clean-up" prior to painting the nave of St. John's Church in North Bay.

The walls were scrubbed down with vigour and chatter and clatter did indicate the feeling of fellowship that prevailed. A light lunch was served and the job was completed by 9:30 p.m.

The volunteer painters were ready to go first thing

next morning with rollers spinning and brushes flap-ping. Another thirty or so turned out for this part of the "party". The ladies pre-pared "soup and sandwiches" for the hungry crew at noon, and by 2 p.m. (just in time to catch the Canada-Russia hockey game) the job was done, the mess cleaned up and the Church prepared for Sunday ser-

It was indeed quite a transformation! Overnight, the church interior was changed from dusty, drab walls, to a clean, freshlypainted, bright interior. On the following Tuesday, the second coat was applied and the willing workers returned home with the satisfaction of a job well done.

"The Paint Bucket"

which was placed in the vestibule of the Church for donations towards the paint and supplies returned enough funds to pay for the entire job, but the feeling of fellowship and accomplishment that prevailed during the entire event far outshone any monetary considera-

Dean F. Nock elected seventh bishop of diocese of Algoma

When the House of Bishops meets in cember, there will be three new bishops among its members. Anglicans in two Ontario Dioceses—Algoma and Ontario — and in the British Columbia Diocese of Cariboo gathered during the month of October to elect new men to the episcopacy.

Because of the press deadlines, the ALGOMA ANGLICAN is unable to present full reports of Algoma's episcopal elec-tion on October 21. Such reports will ap-pear in the December

However, photos and stories of the elections in the three dioceses mentioned appear in

Inflation hits ALGOMA ANGLICAN

Inflation has attacked the very fibres of our society, and, to be sure, very little has been left untouched by this ever-increasing monster.

One of the victims has been your diocesan paper, the ALGOMA ANGLICAN. Increased newsprint and mailing costs have added greatly to the monthly expenditure for the production and distribution of this vehicle for communication in Algoma's 70,000 square miles.

For some time, the ALGOMA ANGLICAN has been publishing eight pages (doubling its former size of four pages), and there has been the occasional twelve-page issue for certain special events, such as the Annual Camping Issue, and the Special Supplement about William L: Algoma.

The Editor has been delighted with the mail which has been crossing his desk monthly from every part of the diocese. The quality and quantity of photos has also been a great asset. It is with such an excellent response on your part that a larger publication has been possible. In fact, a diocesan paper of some sixteen or twenty pages could be produced! Since this is the case, considerable editing and choice often occurs; some articles have been greatly reduced in length, and others have been entirely omitted for one reason or another. That, of course, is the responsibility of any editor, but the ALGOMA ANGLICAN would like to thank its contributors for their patience and tolerance.

To continue to publish an eight-page diocesan paper monthly for the remaining months of 1974, and in 1975, will require more than what was originally budgeted. The ALGOMA ANGLICAN is pleased to report that at a recent meeting of the Executive of the Diocese, an increased budget was made available to the diocesan paper. In addition, as of January, 1975, individual subscriptions from people not on parish lists will increase from $1.50 to $2.50.

Therefore, with the promise of such support, the ALGOMA ANGLICAN will continue to strive to provide Algoma readers with a first-rate diocesan paper.

However, the ALGOMA ANGLICAN feels that it must participate in the 'holding-the-line' policies advocated by so many. Therefore, on occasion, we will publish a four-page edition (when the flow of material dictates, or when the material can be easily edited without destroying the

This current November issue is one such edition. We trust you will understand, and hope that you will not feel you must limit your contributions of articles and photos. Please continue your excellent work, and leave the editing

In the meantime, the ALGOMA ANGLICAN would like to reiterate its pledge to be involved and concerned in communicating the happenings throughout this vast diocese, especially at a time when we are entering a new era in our history with the recent election of a new diocesan bishop.

Bill Wadley moving to Niagara

Mr. William Wadley

At the September 10 meeting of the Executive of the Diocese of Algoma, Mr. William Wadley handed in his resignation as Treasurer of the Diocese. He has accepted an invitation to move to Hamilton early in the new year as Controller of the Diocese of Niagara. His resignation was accepted with regret by the Execu-

Although a resident of Sault Ste. Marie for some twenty years, Mr. Wadley had previously lived in Southern Ontario. He was born in Markham, Ontario, on April 3, 1926, and received his education in Kitchener had the opportunity of par-and Toronto.

After qualifying as a Chartered Accountant, he worked in Ottawa before coming to Sault Ste. Marie. At the time of his appointment as Diocesan Treasurer on November 1, 1962, he was serving as Deputy-Treasurer of the city of Sault Ste.

His formal letter of resignation reads as follows:

"I now tender my resignation as Treasurer of the Diocese of Algoma to take effect early in the new year, in order for me to accept a new position in Southern Ontario. During the next few months I will remain to provide whatever help I can in the day-to-day conduct of Synod Office activities, and in preparing for my successor as smooth a transfer of administrative responsibilities as possible.

"I have held the office of Diocesan Treasurer for almost twelve years, since November 1, 1962, and have had the opportunity of representing Algoma at the Anglican Congress of 1963, and at five General Synods, and several Provincial Synods, and for this I am most grateful.
"Closer to home, I have ticipating in six Diocesan Synods, and of visiting most of the individual churches and parishes in all eight deaneries of this Diocese. I am most appreciative of the support and co-operation I have received from the clergy and laity throughout

"Now, however, I feel it is time for a change: both for myself and for the Diocese. I am stepping aside so that a new appointment can be made. The Diocese will benefit from someone with a fresh approach and new ideas, I am sure.

"No one could have asked for a better staff with which to work than I have had at the Synod Office. I am sure that their efforts will be a great help to my successor. Their loyalty to their Bishop and Diocese has been a tremendous help to me as well during my term of office,

The greatest gift

Friendship is a Golden Key Unlocking every door, Creating understanding That did not exist before.

(excerpt from a poem by Jean McManus)

After reading this poem, I wanted to share it with you. This editorial is a tribute to the many people who have befriended me in my recent travels across Canada.

When you travel from place to place, and do not know anyone before you go, it seems that upon arriving and finding a friendly face, everything becomes worthwhile.

Another type of friendship is that which flows through the pens of the people who write YOUTH NEWS to tell me about the events which are taking place in their areas of the Diocese.

LOVE and FRIENDSHIP are the greatest gifts you can give. Give of them freely, for they never run out, and can only grow. Remember, also, that it is easy to give love and friendship to those who return it, but harder to give to those who don't for they are the ones who need it most. The Commandments proclaimed that everyone should love his neighbour, and in this way, world peace would be an established fact:

> When friends walk beside us On the trails that we must keep Our burdens seem less heavy And the hills are not so steep. The weary miles pass swiftly Taken in a joyous stride And all the world seems brighter When friends walk side by side.

Youth activities across Algoma

Sudbury has some "Noisy Children", who are spreading the Good Word through music. The group consists of a pianist, a drummer, a trombonist, 2 guitarists, a flutist and core enthusia flutist, and some enthusias-tic singers. These young people have a special goal this year—to raise money to buy a second-hand piano for Camp Manitou.

The Thunder Bay Youth Deanery Council has its new executive—Mary Morrow, as Chairwoman; Karen Rescitnyk, as Secretary-Treasurer; and Alison Moore as Cor-responding Secretary. Re-treats were sponsored by the Council at St. John's on Sept. 27 and 28, and at Nipigon on Oct. 4 and 5. An Oct. 12 "Bake Sale and Sale of Hallowe'en Candy" will sup-port Camp Gitchigomee, and the Deanery Council.

Churches in Thunder Bay with Youth Groups include the following: St. Paul's (Leaders Capt. Roy Dickson, and Bob Stewardson); St. Stephen's (Leaders Alex and Jan Morgan); St. George's (this group works once a week with mentally retarded children); St. John's (Leaders Capt. Henk Williams and Mary Morrow); and St. Thomas (Leader Sister Diagram) anne Nelson).

At St. Paul's on Sunday, October 6, the National Youth Co-ordinator visited the parish, and presented a provocative audio-visual per-formance, "Rise to Meet the Morning", to young people and adults from throughout the Deanery of Thunder Bay.

In North Bay, the St.

Brice's Youth Group is off and running for the fall season, with about 25 teen-age members.

All the churches in North Bay have been invited to form an Interdenominational Youth Choir, which would perform throughout the city and Ontario. Response so far has been excellent, and this looks like the beginning of a great choir, and a growing friendship among the various churches.

A Youth Group is being started in the North Temiskaming Deanery, but up to this point no news has been received from them.

As it gets colder I start to look back on the warm days of summer, and with those days in mind, I would like to share with you a poem that was written by a camper after his visit to Manitou. This was a Work Camp for young people, which had been organized by Fr. Bill Stadnyk, and Fr. Eric Paterson. Young people from all over the Diocese attend-

We've started, finished, and parted, But let me tell you About Youth Camp Manitou. Here there is no strife, Only happiness, faith, and life.

I paid ten dollars To work, they say. Ah, but work is play Done the Manitou way.

Did you ever share An outhouse for two, Or for that matter Paddle a war canoe, Sing grace, Or eat without haste?

Oh, Camp Manitou, I believe in you, For you have shown The ways of happy days.

We walked, we talked. We told a tale or two. A song was sung, A prayer was heard, Work was done With enjoyment and fun, But I'm sorry to say
That camp ended yesterady.

An expression of gratitude

Archbishop W. Wright says "THANK YOU"

Married St.

Archbishop W. L. Wright, and Mrs. Wright, are seen as His Grace speaks some words of "Thank you" to his clergy at a special evening on Monday, September 9. His hand rests on the battery-operated TV given to the Wrights by the clergy and their wives of the Diocese of Algoma.

To our diocesan family and other friends:

Transferrences and the property of the second

Words fail to convey to you all the warm thanks shown to my wife and myself on the occasion of my birthday and retirement. Literally hundreds of messages have to remain unanswered, and I trust you will please accept this letter in the ALGOMA ANGLICAN as the medium of appreciation.

I can't begin to list the names of all those who had a share in the farewell service and receptions and gifts. This is because I do not know the names of all those who have been involved, and, furthermore, I was politely reminded that I should not enquire too closely!

Be that as it may, I do know that the beautiful service observed in all churches on September 8 was prepared by Dean Nock and the Rev. Eric Paterson. To the Dean and Fr. Paterson is conveyed my warmest thanks.

The preparations in St. Luke's Cathedral for the broadcast were the responsibility of the Dean, and here again, I must convey my gratitude. Then, another name that comes to mind is Mr. Laurence Brown of Sault Ste. Marie. He has been associated with the Committee on Preparations, and knowing the thoroughness with which he carries out committee work, I am sure he had a vital part to play in the arrange-

I was overwhelmed to hear that 160 walnut wooden crosses had been made by my friend, Mr. O. Ainslie, and these were packed by the Synod Office Staff, and forwarded to all the churches. I was very much touched by this wonderful tribute.

To all who had a share in the generous purse presented by the Chancellor at the service, I convey my sincerest thanks. I do not know the names of the donors, but my heartfelt appreciation is conveyed on behalf of my wife and myself. Chancellor Lawson spoke beautifully in St. Luke's on September 8; he has been a tower of strength.

The CJIC-TV station and local radio stations in Sault Ste. Marie were most generous in their time and the wonderful contribution in broadcasting the service. It was beautifully accomplished.

On the Monday night at the Windsor Hotel, "my boys certainly went to town!" There were no holds barred! The democratic process in Anglicanism was at its best. The episcopal representative was not exempt! It was a grand occasion. Many thanks to all the brethren for gifts received; the entire evening was superb.

It is difficult for me to write this letter but to all readers of the ALGOMA ANGLICAN, to all our Anglican family in Algoma, to all our personal friends—on behalf of Margaret and myself, may I say, 'Thank You', and God bless you all.

Affectionately, William L. Wright.

Sudbury church experiences break-ins

The Rev. Canon George Doolan, Rector of the Church of the Resurrection in Sudbury, has placed a sign (both in English and French) in three different locations in the Church after vandals broke into the Church twice in the past month.

The sign reads, "There is no money in this Church." The first break-in resulted in a small amount of Sunday School money being stolen from a locked filing cabinet. Entry was gained after a back double window was broken. The vandals then broke into the basement room and the Rector's office. The sacristy was also entered.

The Rector's office was turned upside down, and the filing cabinet broken into. The second break-in resumed where the previous one left off. Once again, the office was broken into, and this time was completely ransacked.

No longer is any money kept in the church. After the first break-in, the back windows were boarded up. As a result, the vandals kicked in the window of the Sunday School room. They then broke into the women's cupboard where sewing material and other items were stored. Light bulbs were broken, and the storeroom door was kicked in and taken off its hinges. Regional police are investigating.

Algoma participates in Anglican Appeal

This fall, Canadian Anglicans are being asked to contribute $500,000.00 for work in the north and overseas, for the years 1974 and 1975. Anglican Appeal '74, with its target date of November 17, has been en-thusiastically endorsed by every diocese across Canada. Special committees have been established in most dioceses to organize the campaign locally. Algoma's share

This year and next $340,000.00 raised by this Appeal will be used to increase the income level of all clergy in the assisted dioceses of mid-Canada and the Arctic. Travel grants for work in this vast area will also be increased. Help will be given for clergy living expenses and freight costs will be equalized.

Money from Appeal '74 will also be used for General Synod's 12-member Council on the North and the new Office of the North, with its full-time staff

In 1975 funds from this Appeal will enable our church to respond to requests for major new work overseas - work that is now beyond present budget capacity. A total of $127,000.00 will be used to fill requests for theological education and training assistance, for regional and ecumenical planning and experimentation and for the appointment of Canadian over-

It should be pointed out that the Diocese of Algoma has already forwarded $5,000 from the Church Extension Fund to the National Church to be applied towards the Diocese's share of the National Appeal. The remaining $10,000 is to be raised by the parishes of the Diocese on Sunday, November 17.

In Algoma, the campaign is being conducted along the Primate's World Relief and Development Fund method. Each parish handles its own donations, sending out literature and envelopes and remitting to the Diocesan Office, who transmits the money to the National Appeal.)
