The girls were, of course, all in white. Miss Hubbard sent the veils for the girls. The boys looked so handsome and so manly.

The Marshall boys sent Mac. $5.00. Jack and I gave him $1.50. Miss Ham gave the boys $1.00 to give to Mac. Mac. went to town on Sunday. He brought back sandies for the children - and he brought a box of Chocolate Covered Cherries for Eleanor and I. Wasn't that good of him?

The last 4 mornings I have been up betimes and had tea with Mac. and then I've gone off for a walk. I went to the falls on Sat. morning before breakfast. They are very high.

The water is up over the path to the boat house - here.

We saw a flame coloured spider on Sunday afternoon. The boys were telling me God was waking everything up.

Jack is outside working a lot.

Miss Ham took the boys to the Fox farm on Sat. with bunch. They stayed there till supper.

Jack and I were in town.

We are to have only one week day service a week in chapel from now on.

Love to you and John,
Durs.

would love to meet you both.

Did I tell you Doreen is to be married in blue?
in a long blue dress —
the sleeves being puffs of blue organdy — a flounce
of organdie attached to the lower part of the dress. At the place where it is to be applied to the dress will be tiny flowers all round —

She is to be maid or matron
of honour at a friend's wedding
in the same dress.

Did the contents of your trunk arrive safely? Did the Blue Boy travel well. U.K. gave you him,

Mrs J. Simpson.
