

A black and white photograph of a group of approximately 15 men posing in front of a building at night. The men are dressed in formal attire, including suits, ties, and overcoats. Some are wearing hats. They are arranged in two rows, with some kneeling or sitting in the front and others standing behind. Above the entrance of the building, a sign reads "NO SMOKING". The building has a wooden facade and a large window. The scene is illuminated by a bright light source, possibly a street lamp, creating a high-contrast image.
